ACCEPTING (OR SEEKING) HELP IN YOUR LOSS . . .

There are numerous kinds of loss: divorce, job, miscarriage, loss of health, loss of independence, death of a loved one, etc. St. Cecilia Grief Ministry is here to help.

Someone you love very much has died. The pain and fear wash over you in waves. You may feel that you cannot bear it. You wonder if you will survive. It is true that everything will be changed. You will remember and grieve a little all the rest of your life.

If people offer to help, which they will, let them. Suggest things they might do. Accept help from professionals such as funeral directors, pastors, grief support groups, and others who are ready to guide you and to help you make decisions. You do not need to do this alone!

If you would like to receive the confidential support of a Grief Minister, please contact the parish office (360-629-3737) and we will be in touch with you.
